

REFERENCES

- [1] Long Term Generation Expansion Plan 1999– 2013, CEB January 1999
- [2] Master Plan for the Electricity Supply of Sri Lanka, June 1989
- [3] Climate Change 1997 COP-3 to the UNFCCC and the Kyoto Protocol, World Energy Council, Dec. 1997
- [4] Analysis of the Emission Trading Potential in Sri Lanka for the Global Green House Gas market under the Kyoto Protocol, B.M.S Batagoda, K.I.A. Kularatne and E.Y.K. Lokupitiya
- [5] Feasibility Report, Broadlands Power Project, Central Engineering Consultancy Bureau, Sri Lanka, 1986
- [5a] Broadlands Hydro Electric Project, Central Engineering Consultancy Bureau Communication dated 21st October 1991
- [6] Pre-feasibility Study on Uma Oya Multi-purpose Project, Central Engineering Consultancy Bureau, July 1991
- [7] Kukule Ganga Hydropower Project Feasibility Study, Ceylon Electricity Board, August, 1992
- [8] Sri Lanka Forestry Sector Master Plan 1995
- [9] Wind Energy Resources in the Southern Lowlands of Sri Lanka, Ceylon Electricity Board, 1992
- [10] Sustainable Supply of Fuelwood to meet Sri Lanka's Energy Needs, Ministry of Science and Technology, Sri Lanka, 1998
- [11] Growing our own Energy: Complementing hydro-power for sustainable thermal energy and rural unemployment in Sri Lanka . Dr. Ray Wijewardane and P.G. Joseph, 1999
- [12] Techno-Economic potential of Energy Efficient Technology Options for Mitigating GHGs from the Electricity Sector: A Case Study of Sri Lanka . W.J.L.S. Fernando and Anula Kumarihamy, 1996
- [13] Greenhouse Gas Inventory Workbook. Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change, 1997
- [14] Clean Coal Technology Demonstration Program. U.S. Department of Energy, April 2000
- [15] Sri Lanka Power Technology Assessment report prepared by International Development and Energy Associates Ltd., January 2000
- [16] Climate Change decision-making: science, policy and economics, Munasinghe M. , 1998
- [17] Climate Change 1995 : Impacts, Adoptions and Mitigation of Climate Change, IPCC, 1996
- [18] Global Overlay Study of Green House Gas Mitigation Options in the Sri Lanka Power Sector, Environment Department, World Bank, Washington DC, December 1999
- [19] Feasibility of Dendro Power based Electricity Generation in Sri Lanka, Energy-Forum, Intermediate Technology Development Group, Sri Lanka, December 1998